

List of Free Online Learning Websites (Last Updated June 2019)

Microsoft Office

<https://edu.gcfglobal.org/en/>

Free courses on current and previous versions of Microsoft Office, as well as other courses on math, reading, technology, and more.

www.coursepark.com/ns

Provided through the Province of Nova Scotia, this site gives every resident of the province access to thousands of FREE online courses on the most important workplace topics to improve their skills and career prospects.

<http://www.udemy.com>

Many computer technology-based courses, some of which are free. To find free courses, enter the name of the course (e.g., "Microsoft") in the search bar. Then select "Lowest Price" from the "Sort" drop-down menu.

<https://alison.com/diploma-courses>

Includes many workplace training courses, including Microsoft Office.

www.lynda.com

Lynda.com includes thousands of video tutorial courses that are free with a Halifax Library Card. To access free courses, go to <https://www.lynda.com/portal/sip?org=halifax.ca> and enter your library card and pin number.

Office.microsoft.com/training

The Microsoft Training Centre website provides video tutorials for current and previous versions of all Microsoft Office software.

www.youtube.com

YouTube is a video-sharing website where users can upload videos on a huge range of topics. Use the search bar at the top of the page to find video tutorials (e.g., "Introduction to Microsoft Word").

Other Useful Websites

ocw.mit.edu/courses/

Thousands of university level courses to enrich independent learners

www.openculture.com/freeonlinecourses

An extensive online repository of audiobooks, online courses, e-books and classic movies.

<https://www.typing.com/student>

Free online typing tutor. You can create an account to save your progress through the lessons.

www.ccohs.ca/catalog/courses_list_nova.php

Free Workplace Health and Safety e-Courses for residents of Nova Scotia. Limit of 6 courses per person per calendar year.

www.coursera.org

Coursera provides universal access to education, partnering with universities and organizations to offer courses online.

www.edx.org

edX is an online learning destination, offering high-quality courses from the world's best universities and institutions.

www.khanacademy.org

Their mission is to provide a free, world-class education at no cost